Definition of SEN

A child or young person has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty if he or she:

- (a) Has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age; or
- (b) Has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions. SEN Code of Practice (2015, p15-16)

Definition of disability

Many children and young people who have SEN may have a disability under the Equality Act 2010 – that is ‘...a physical or mental impairment which has a long-term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities’. This definition provides a relatively low threshold and includes more children than many realise: ‘long-term’ is defined as ‘a year or more’ and ‘substantial’ is defined as ‘more than minor or trivial’. SEN Code of Practice (2015, p16)

1. The kinds of special educational need for which provision is made at the school
At Bodsham CEP School and Saltwood CEP School we can make provision for every kind of frequently occurring special educational need without a statement of special educational needs / Education, Health and Care Plan, for instance dyslexia, dyspraxia, speech, language and communication needs, autism, Asperger's syndrome, ADD/ADHD, learning difficulties, behaviour, emotional and social difficulties and physical/ sensory needs. There are other kinds of special educational needs which do not occur as frequently and with which the school is less familiar, but we can access training and advice so that these kinds of needs can be met.

The federation has also met the needs of pupils with an Education, Health and Care plan (EHCP) with the following kinds of special educational need; Autism, Dyslexia, Dyscalculia, and complex needs. Decisions on the admission of pupils with a Education, Health and Care plan are made by the Local Authority.

The admission arrangements for pupils without a statement of Education, Health and Care Plan do not discriminate against or disadvantage disabled children or those with special educational needs and will be made in accordance with the admission arrangements 2019/20.

2. Information about the policy for identification and assessment of pupils with SEN
At Bodsham CEP School / Saltwood CEP School we monitor the progress of all pupils three times a year to review their academic progress. We also use a range of formative and summative assessments with all the pupils, which indicate if they are at an emerging level, working at an expected level or if they are exceeding the expected level.

Where progress is not sufficient, even if special educational need has not been identified, we put in place extra support to enable the pupil to catch up. Examples of extra support are; thorough and clearly planned interventions that target specific areas of learning to support progress. These are recorded on whole class provision maps which are reviewed 3 times a year in SENCo / class teacher review meetings.

Some pupils may continue to make inadequate progress, despite high-quality teaching targeted at their areas of weakness. For these pupils, and in consultation with parents, we will use a range of assessment tools to determine the cause of the learning difficulty. At Bodsham CEP School/ Saltwood CEP School we are experienced in using the following assessment tools:-the GLS Dyslexia, Speech and Language Link, Leuven Assessment, Boxall Profile, Progress in reading Assessment (PIRA) and The Bابتie and Emerson Maths Assessment. We have access to external advisors such as the Specialist Teaching and Learning Service (STLS), Speech And Language Therapists (SALT), Occupational Therapists(OT), Children and Young People's Mental Health Service (CHYMPS) and Educational Psychologists, who are able to use their own assessment tools. We can also signpost and access family support through the Single request for Support form, as part of the Kent Early Help and Preventative Services.

The purpose of this more detailed assessment is to understand what additional resources and different approaches are required to enable the pupil to make better progress. These will be shared with parents. A personalised plan or class provision map will be used and reviewed regularly, and refined/revised if necessary. At this point we will have identified that the pupil has a special educational need because the school is making special educational provision for the pupil which is additional and different to what is normally available. If this is the case the child will be added to the SEN register under SEN support.

"SEN support is intensive and personalised intervention which is required to enable the child/young person (CYP) to be engaged in learning. It will usually involve significant amounts of resource from the educational setting (approaching, or in a minority of cases exceeding, the nationally prescribed threshold for schools and colleges). Each CYP identified as SEN Support will have Outcomes which have been agreed through a process of collaboration and discussion. A personalised programme of support will be devised and be reviewed and adjusted frequently (at least three times per year) with close CYP and/or parental involvement."

If the pupil is able to maintain good progress without the additional and different resources he or she will not be identified with special educational needs. When any change in identification of SEN is changed parents will be notified.

We will ensure that all teachers and support staff who work with the pupil are aware of the support to be provided and the teaching approaches to be used through SEN reviews and regular liaison.

3. Information about the school's policies for making provision for pupils with special educational needs whether or not they have EHC Plans, including:

3a. How the school evaluates the effectiveness of its provision for such pupils

Each review of the personalised plan will be informed by the views of the pupil, parents and teaching staff and the assessment information from teachers which will show whether adequate progress is being made.

The SEN Code of Practice (2015, 6.17) describes inadequate progress thus:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline
- Fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress
- Fails to close the attainment gap between rate of progress
- Widens the attainment gap

For pupils with an Education, Health and Care Plan there will be an annual review of the provision made for the child, which will enable an evaluation of the effectiveness of the special provision. The collation of all annual review evaluations of effectiveness will be reported to the governing body. See SEN and Vulnerable children Annual reports.

3b. The school's arrangements for assessing and reviewing the progress of pupils with special educational needs

Every pupil in the school has their progress tracked three times per year. We use a range of formative and summative assessments with all the pupils, which indicate if they are at an emerging level, working at an expected level or if they are exceeding the expected level.

If these assessments do not show adequate progress is being made the Personalised Plan will be reviewed and adjusted.

3bi. The school's access arrangements for examinations and tests.

The Equality Act 2010 places a duty upon schools to not discriminate against pupils with a disability in their access to education. Special arrangements are not offered to enable children to get the highest score they possible can; they are provided only where the severity of the child's difficulties means that cannot be reasonably expected to attempt the tests in standard format or under prescribed conditions. Where the school wishes to request reasonable adjustments for the PESE process this can be done by completing the 'Appendix B' Proforma. The school needs to confirm the nature of the child's disability, their SEN status, the support the child currently receives in school to enable access to the curriculum and suggest reasonable adjustments that need to be made. Types of reasonable adjustment include but are not exhaustive of; adaption of test materials, use of coloured overlays and lenses, use of amanuensis/scribe, use of reader/prompter, extra time, alternative methods for recording such as a word processor and supervised rest breaks.

3c. The school's approach to teaching pupils with special educational needs

High quality first teaching, differentiated for individual pupils, is the first step in responding to pupils who have or may have SEN. Additional intervention and support cannot compensate for a lack of good quality teaching. Schools should regularly and carefully review the quality of teaching for all pupils, including those at risk of underachievement. This includes reviewing and, where necessary, improving, teachers' understanding of strategies to identify and support vulnerable pupils and their knowledge of the SEN most frequently encountered SEN Code of Practice (2015, 6.37)

3d. How the school adapts the curriculum and learning environment for pupils with special educational needs

At Bodsham CEP School / Saltwood CEP School we follow the advice in the Mainstream Core Standards and quality first teaching on how to adapt the curriculum and the learning environment for pupils with special educational needs. We also incorporate the advice provided as a result of assessments, both internal and external, and the strategies described in statements of special educational needs / Education, Health and Care Plans.

Our accessibility plan helps to maintain the appropriateness of our curriculum and learning environment for all students. See accessibility plan 2017-2020 for further detailed information, including how pupils with SEN access the school's facilities.

Staff have received supported training opportunities to develop; transition to the new curriculum, the new SEN Code of Practice, SEN Governor guidance in school development of SEN and an update session on how to complete provision maps.

3e. How the school enables pupils with special educational needs to engage in activities of the school (including physical activities) together with children who do not have special educational needs

All clubs, trips and activities offered to pupils at Bodsham CEP School / Saltwood CEP School are available to pupils with special educational needs either with or without a statement of special educational needs/ Education, Health and Care Plan. Where it is necessary, the school will use the resources available to it to provide additional adult support to enable the safe participation of the pupil in the activity

3f. Support that is available for improving the emotional and social development of pupils with special educational needs

At Bodsham CEP School / Saltwood CEP School we understand that an important feature of the school is to enable all pupils to develop emotional resilience and social skills, both through for instance: - direct teaching - assemblies, PHSE, group work- circle time, being a friend, conflict resolution as well as indirectly with every conversation adults have with pupils throughout the day.

For some pupils with the most need for help in this area we can also, for example, provide the following :- one to one support- carefully planned interventions or emotional well-being support with a SEMH trained Teaching Assistant ,external referral to Child Health Young Persons Service –‘CHYPS’ or a time-out space for pupil to use when upset or agitated etc.

Pupils in the early stages of emotional and social development because of their special educational needs will be supported to enable them to develop and mature appropriately. This will usually require additional and different resources, beyond that required by pupils who do not need this support.

3g. Additional support for learning that is available to pupils with special educational needs

As part of our budget we receive ‘notional SEN funding’. This funding is used to ensure that the quality of teaching is good in the school and that there are sufficient resources to deploy additional and different teaching for pupils requiring SEN support. The amount of support required for each pupil to make good progress will be different in each case and a full list of the interventions we can offer is on our provision map. In very few cases a very high level of resource is required. The funding arrangements require schools to provide up to £6000 per year of resource for pupils with high needs, and above that amount the Local Authority should provide top up to the school. If the school exceeds this per pupil then Higher needs funding can be applied for. For details on funding provided to the school for SEN, this is the SEN notional funding and any other higher needs funding please see the Saltwood and Bodsham local offer.

4. The name and contact details of the SEN Co-ordinator

The SENCo at Bodsham CEP School is Mrs Debbie Thomas, who is a qualified teacher and holds the National Award for SEN Co-ordination.

The SENCo at Saltwood CEP School is Mrs Hannah Keep who is a qualified teacher and holds the National Award for SEN Co-ordination.

Mrs Thomas / Mrs Keep work part-time and so can be contacted through the school office.

5. Information about the expertise and training of staff in relation to children and young people with special educational needs and how specialist expertise will be secured

Teachers and teaching assistants all have access to training via The Beacon on several areas of special educational needs; these include autism, dyslexia, SALT, SEMH to name but a few.

In addition teaching staff at Bodsham CEP School / Saltwood CEP School have received the following training to support specific needs as well as work alongside and on programmes given by outside agencies:-Precision Teaching, Fizzy Training and Clever Hands, Counselling skills, Bereavement Training, Dyscalculia, Supporting the language impaired, Supporting children with speech sound difficulties, Including/ Supporting children with ASD in mainstream, Behaviour management training, visual supports training, Using manipulatives in maths.

Where a training need is identified beyond this we will find a provider who is able to deliver it. Training providers we can approach are through a Local Inclusion Forum Team meeting which includes:- An Educational Psychologist, Speech and language therapist (SALT) the specialist teaching and learning service (STLS) and through other SENCOs in our group of schools. We can at times access training with – Occupational Therapy and Physiotherapy. For highly specialist communication equipment the school will seek the advice of the KCC Communication and Assistive Technology team.

6. Information about how equipment and facilities to support children and young people with special educational needs will be secured

For highly specialist communication equipment the school will seek the advice of the KCC Communication and Assistive Technology team.

7. The arrangements for consulting parents of children with special educational needs about, and involving them in, their education

All parents of SEN pupils at Bodsham CEP School/ Saltwood CEP School are invited to discuss the progress of their children in Term 2/4/6 with the Class Teacher and receive a written class report once a year. In addition, we are happy to arrange meetings outside these times. As part of our normal teaching arrangements, all pupils will access some additional teaching to help them catch-up if the progress monitoring indicates that this is necessary; this will not imply that the pupil has a special educational need. All such provision will be recorded, tracked and evaluated on a Provision Map which will be shared at the parent consultation meetings.

If following this normal provision improvements in progress are not seen, we will contact parents to discuss the use of internal or external assessments which will help us to address these needs better. From this point onwards the pupil may well be identified as having special educational needs because special educational provision is being made and the parent will be invited to all planning and reviews of this provision. Parents will be supported to contribute to their child's learning

In addition to this, parents of pupils with a statement of SEN / Education, Health and Care Plan will be invited to contribute to and attend an annual review, which, wherever possible will also include other agencies involved with the pupil. Information will be made accessible for parents.

8. The arrangements for consulting young people with special educational needs about, and involving them in, their education

When a pupil has been identified to have special educational needs because special educational provision is being made for him or her, the pupil will be consulted about and involved in the arrangements made for them as part of person-centred planning. Parents are likely to play a more significant role in the childhood years with the young person taking more responsibility and acting with greater independence in later years.

9. The arrangements made by the governing body relating to the treatment of complaints from parents of pupils with special educational needs concerning the provision made at the school

The normal arrangements for the treatment of complaints at Bodsham CEP School/ Saltwood CEP School are used for complaints about provision made for special educational needs. We encourage parents to discuss their concerns with the class teacher in the first instance. After which further consultations can be arranged with the SENCO, Deputy Head or Head Teacher to resolve the issue before making the complaint formal to the Chair of the governing body.

If the complaint is not resolved after it has been considered by the governing body, then a disagreement resolution service or mediation service can be contracted. If it remains unresolved after this, the complainant can appeal to the First-tier Tribunal (Special Educational Needs and Disability), if the case refers to disability discrimination, or to the Secretary of State for all other cases.

There are some circumstances, usually for children who have a Statement of SEN where there is a statutory right for parents to appeal against a decision of the Local Authority. Complaints which fall within this category cannot be investigated by the school.

10. How the governing body involves other bodies, including health and social services bodies, local authority support services and voluntary organisations, in meeting the needs of pupils with special educational needs and in supporting the families of such pupils

The Governing Body has engaged with the following bodies:-

- Free membership of LIFT for access to specialist teaching and learning service.
- Access to local authority's service level agreement with Speech and Language Therapy Services / Occupational Therapy Services / Physiotherapy Services for pupil with requirement for direct therapy or advice
- Ability to make ad hoc requests for advice from Communication and Assistive Technology Team, etc.
- Membership of professional networks for SENCO, SENCO forum, NASEN etc.
